DEMANDS ON GREECE

The allies seem to be handling Greece a pretty raw deal, but when it is remembered that the Greek king in defiance of a solemn treaty with Serbia, refused to come to that little country's aid when Bulgaria assassinated her in the back, and when it is remembered that the French and British troops were landed at Saloniki at the express invitation of the Greek government, it is not to be marveled at that the entente powers are declining to take any chances of being fired on from ambush. Clearly the entente allies do not know what the Greek king, backed by his German officers, would attempt to do.

The French and British therefore are exercising caution in disarming the troops that might be hurled against their rear in case of a successful invasion of Macedonia.

One feature of the protests of the people is the fact that only 5,000 Greeks out of a population of 175,000 marched to the American legation and urged that the United States intervene. The Greeks seem to be against their king, who for months has not had a government.

WELCOME TO HICKORY

The visitors to the Catawba County Fair this week are given a cordial welcome to Hickory. The directors have worked hard for the annual event, and they have not allowed floods or draught to dismay them in preparation of an event which all admit is a little better than any ever pulled off in this city.

But this is just a beginning. Visitors who come here this week should be made to realize that this is the first fair under the new corporation and that, it being permanent, the institution will be made to grow. Next year's fair will be better and from year to year the exhibits will improve and the attractions increase.

The management, however, is not apologizing for this year's attractions. They are first-class, but they merely indicate the direction in which the forward-looking people of this section are headed.

COTTON AND WHEAT

Cotton sold for 19 cents on the Hickory market Monday and wheat brought $1.70. The staple is expected to reach 20 cents and flour is expected to sell for $10 a barrel before the winter ends.

All of which will be good news for farmers in the south and west, but not very encouraging to persons who have to use the finished product.

And yet we are not begrudging the farmers for the fancy prices they are receiving these days, because we can remember the more than seven lean years through which they have passed.

R. J. Reynolds did not ask anybody to stand by and help him when the Democrats thought the state needed an anti-trust law—just like that they have now—and he has never asked any favors from anybody, so far as we have been able to learn. Mr. Reynolds gave $10,000 to assist in the election of Mr. Wilson and, as the Greensboro Record says, he won't ask for any job.

There is no doubt about the fact that the boys look anxiously for the New York Herald's forecast. When the tide runs in favor of Republicans, there is considerable cheer on that side, and when it runs towards the Democrats, they feel just as good. Three weeks from today, friends, and it will all be over except the shouting, the rooster and the annual sail up Salt river.

Mr. W. S. Pollard today has on exhibit at the Catawba County Fair two bunches of pears, there being 15 pears on one twig 12 inches long and 10 on the other. Here were 21 on one, but some fell off. At that the bunch made as fruitful appearance as the newspaper man ever saw.

If the legislature will give the state fair $10,000, then it will be a different legislature from any we have ever known.

The fair's the thing.

With Richmond, Va., and the majority of North Carolina towns actively pulling for Raleigh, it seems that the state capital has a good chance to land the land bank. It ought to be made unanimous.

The Rumanian king in calling for the calf rope, knew exactly what he was talking about, but as long as his armies are not captured, victories, count for little. Men are what count, not territory.

Those ultimate consumers ultimately may not be able to consume at the present rate of increase.

Have a mind to quit writing editorials for a week and take in the fair.

Everybody is welcome all the time.

Everything succeeds in Hickory.

More exhibits and better than ever.
